Antenatal Workshop

Parents have told me they wish they had had more information on breastfeeding prior to the birth. This workshop for expectant parents covers the impact of feeding method on the health of mother and baby, how breastfeeding works and how to do it (correct positioning and attachment), what to expect when breastfeeding, where to get support, the role of fathers, expressing and myths and concerns about breastfeeding.

The workshop is taught individually in your own home as a one hour session for £50.

Payment

Payment for individual/one off visits can be made by cheque or cash at the end of my visit.

Mileage

I charge 50p per mile and will travel up to 30 miles from my home postcode.
